One Confessor Who Was Cured.

Mr. Wilford Adams is his name, and he writes about it:—"Some time ago I was confined to my bed by two bottles of Fole's Kidney Remedy with good effect, and the third bottle put me on my feet and resumed work as conductor on the Lexington, Ky., Street Railway. It gave me more relief than any medicine I had ever used, and it will do all you claim in cases of rheumatism." Fole's Kidney Remedy cures rheumatism by eliminating the uric acid from the blood. Roads in Morgan.

Since the establishment of good roads in this section of the county lands have almost doubled in value along the route of the roads. The minority opposition that was exhibited toward issuing of bonds with which to get the money to build the roads is fast vanishing and the people are beginning to realize what they mean in the way of advancement to a section of the country. In fact, it is quite a job to find any land for sale along the roads that have already been built. When the road is completed to the Lawrence county line, west of here, this section of country will have something like 25 miles of fine roads, 10 miles on the of the railroad, and nearly 15 miles on the west.—Morgan Times.

Fole's Kidney Remedy is a safe and certain remedy for all kidney and bladder diseases, whether acute or chronic. It is a splendid tonic for middle aged and elderly people and a sure cure for all nervousness and irregularities of the kidneys and bladder. Sold by City Drug Store.

Sample Helps Frail Women

So many women are dragging out weary lives just because their digestive organs are weak. The result is poor circulation, nervousness and the verge of invalidism. It is often very unnecessary and the woman's own fault.

The first thing to do is to look to the welfare of your bowels. There the trouble usually lies. All physicians know that a large percentage of women are habitually constipated, and from this result indigestion, piles, weakness, etc., that women constantly complain of. But there is no use taking "purgative remedies" and things of that kind until you have started your bowels to moving. Let me give you one or two hints.

First, you will disappear. Take a good, mild laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for awhile and you will find yourself rapidly getting better and stronger, your bowels will regulate themselves and you will be able to do more and work at greater times than your headaches and dizziness will disappear. Don't take such a mild and pleasant-tasting remedy as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

You can obtain a bottle of your drug-gist for fifty cents or one dollar, and keep it regularly in the house and will not be longer without it as it cured them member of the family, down to the youngest child, but if you have never used it take the advice of Mrs. East S. and Mrs. Ellen Pannan, Macon, Ind., and take Dr. Caldwell's for a free trial bottle, as they did, and learn for yourself what it will do in your own case. That is no doubt.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach. Send your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample, simply send your name and address, and your card or address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 2550 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

WALTER D. SEED
Tuscaloosa, Ala.
Candidate for Lieutenant Governor.

Hon. Walter D. Seed, candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Alabama, is one of the foremost citizens of the State, aggressive in all things for the up-building of the State and for the benefit of the people.

Having served as trustee of a public school for nearly ten years, and having made a special study of the present system of schools, he is thoroughly familiar with the needs in that line, and favors the State doing all it possibly can for the public schools.

He was a delegate to the first Good Roads Convention held at Anniston nearly ten years ago. Prior to that time and continuously since he not only favored good roads, but has been a financial supporter of the cause, and favors direct attention given this matter as soon as the State's finances will permit.

Being a farmer, he is in position to know the needs of the agricultural people, and favors increased appropriations for Farmers' Institute work for more and larger prizes to stimulate greater interest in better methods of farming; for appropriations that will arouse an agricultural campaign throughout Alabama, that will result in doubling the production on the same land with the same labor.

He opposes any general increase of taxation, either direct or indirect. Resolutions adopted by citizens of his home town state the fact that, after the death of his father, he was left with a family of six children and a small estate, which he has since been actively identified with both commercial life and farming interests for nearly thirty years.

You are familiar with his record as State Treasurer, which speaks for itself. He agitated and was greatly instrumental in securing the present depository law which saves the State $100,000 annually in exchange, and protects the State's funds by bonds, leaving no danger from robbery and loss from embezzlement.

He will always appreciate most highly and remember most grateful whatever you may do to aid his election.

ent that characterized his distinguished father, who during a service of a quarter of a century as judge and as chief justice of the Supreme court, did much toward giving that court the high rank it has maintained.

His candidacy is endorsed by a large majority of the lawyers of the state, whose judgment in the selection of an attorney general should have weight with the people. Mr. Brickell is conducting a very aggressive campaign and one in keeping with the dignity of the office which he is seeking.

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the metallic cough of cough bringing dread to the house. Mr. Brickell's mother, Mrs. J. B. Brickell, died of this cough.

house and give it at the first sign of danger. Fole's Honey and Tar has saved many little lives and is the only safe preparation for children as it contains no opiates. Sold by City Drug Store.

It is generally believed that the cold has badly damaged the cotton in this county. Even where the young cotton was not killed, the cold dry winds that followed the frost has caused much cotton to die, and that that is not dead will take many days to recover from the effects of the cold.

Senator Bankhead's Final Word.

To the Voters of Coffee County: On account of pending legislation, in which Alabama is vastly interested, I have been detained in Washington and therefore have been unable to visit your county during the present campaign. I felt that my first duty was to care for the business committed to me as one of your senators and that I could rely upon the fair and just people of the state to look after my interest while absent. During the present session of congress results have been secured which will bring great and lasting good to the State. A most liberal river and harbor bill has been passed insuring the completion of the Warrior system. A twenty-seven foot canal at Mobile is provided for. The Coosa river is taken up for improvement with a view to navigation and power development. The Alabama is cared for. The Tennessee is generously provided for. The total appropriation including cash and continuing appropriations is nearly four million dollars. The Agricultural committee unanimously reported my bill to appropriate half a million dollars to be expended in co-operation with the states and counties in experimental road construction. I feel confident that the bill will be passed when reached on the calendar at the present session. When road building, with government aid begins, it will grow and extend as rapidly as rural delivery has done. Ten years ago I formulated a policy looking to the development of the true valued resources of our State, and while progress has been slow, I have never faltered in my hope for ultimate success. The improvement of our water ways will lessen transportation charges and greatly facilitate commerce. The development of our water power, one of our greatest wealth producers the improvement of roads, over which ninety per cent of the internal commerce of the state must be moved, are essential to the future greatness of our beloved state. Our Agricultural interest is our richest asset, and will receive the largest degree of benefit from the successful prosecution and completion of the developments mentioned.

My greatest ambition is to be an humble instrument in the successful prosecution and completion of this work. I have devoted and dedicated my life to the public service, and am willing to be judged by results. While the performance of public duties has defined me the pleasure of seeing you personally, I am gratified to know that I have not been forgotten the post of duty. Only a few days intervene between now and the primary election and I confidentially await the result, believing that my friends will remain active and vigilant until the polls close on the 2nd day of May.

J. H. Bankhead.

We suppose that everybody in this county is going to vote for Senator Bankhead. He certainly is making a splendid representative. He is not making any blood and thunder speeches, but he is pushing the interests of Alabama, and is delivering the real money to improve our waterways, and highways, and that is the kind of man we need in Washington.

(Communicated)

Mr. Brickell stands on his own record as a Democrat and his capability as a lawyer. His ability is recognized by the legal profession of Alabama, his candidacy being favored by eighty per cent of the lawyers of the state. He is publicly endorsed by the bars of twenty-one counties, including Jefferson, Montgomery and Mobile. Lawyers are in position to know the qualifications of the different candidates and their opinions should be given much weight by the people.

The men to be elected Monday to represent Coffee county in the democratic state convention will have important questions to settle and the voters should see that only such men as represent the best sentiment of the county and state are elected.

A Clean Cut Man.

Anniston Daily Hot Blast Says:

The editor of the Hot Blast wants to say a word about the nomination for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. He has known Judge C. C. Nesmith, one of the candidates for eight or nine years. Judge Nesmith is thoroughly qualified for the responsible and honorable position he seeks. He is a clean, upright, unbiased man who has made a splendid record as a jurist, as a member of the Constitutional Convention, as a Judge, as a lawyer before the bar, as a Judge and as citizen he has made himself an enviable record as a level headed, conscientious, fearless man, unprejudiced by passion, unwavering from duty by any consideration whatever. No voter can make a mistake in casting his ballot for C. C. Nesmith for any position to which he aspires. HE WILL MAKE GOOD.

Get You A Canner.

The best canned goods are now put up at home, and family canning outfits are so cheap now that any family can have one. It would pay for itself in three weeks. On this subject the Birmingham Ledger says:

The farmer's wife can sell her preserves and jellies and pickles if she makes them right, and nearly all of them do. One trucker and his wife sold $800 last year and last winter of that kind of produce, and people were glad to get it at fair prices. This will be a great berry year, and it should be made a great money year also.
